Anyone scrambling for ideas on how to throw a green gala in New York needed to look no further than "A Night of Eco-Chic Entertaining," held Thursday night at Astor Center, in the East Village. Hosted by Celia Chen of notesonaparty (seen at left with actress Annie Churchill), the cocktail gathering brought together some of the most innovative green businesses from the Big Apple and beyond, among them event planner dvgreen, Brooklyn chocolatier nunu and florist organicbouquet.
